

A man in a dark suit, white shirt, and red tie is climbing a tall, silver ladder. He is looking through binoculars. The ladder is leaning against another man who is standing in a field of tall grass. The background is a bright, hazy sky.

mission

Discom is a leader in solutions for the reduction of noise & emissions. Together we make the world more sustainable, cleaner and quieter.

vision

We do not wait for technological developments, but prefer to take the lead. We have been doing this for more than 40 years by continuously investing in broadening and deepening of our knowledge.

By doing so we achieve fewer emissions, less noise and an economical use of natural resources. People learn from people. Intensive collaboration - also in partnership with third parties - is an important factor for success in the development of sustainable products and processes. Our involvement with each other and with our living environment motivates us to continue to innovate.

A leading position (also) requires honest answers to difficult questions. That is why our communication is transparent and we take responsibility for what we say and do.
